A huge thank you to everyone who came to the Centenary Fireworks Spectacular and a special thank you to all the parents and staff who helped us on the night.

What a fabulous evening it was!

Top Ten Christmas Outings

Here are some fun things happening in and around London this Christmas.

Winter Wonderland at Hyde Park - Ice-skating rink, circus, food stalls, rides, big wheel and lots more.

Kew Gardens - Includes a festive grotto complete with Santa Claus, traditional horse and carriage rides, mini vintage cars and a carousel.

Christmas at BFI IMAX - A perfect treat for all the family, children and adults alike can feel the yuletide season is properly here with a screening of Disney's A Christmas Carol and the Polar Express on the biggest of big screens.

Peter and the Wolf Live - Fans of the children's classic orchestral piece, will love Peter and the Wolf at the Southbank Centre. Accompanied by the Philharmonia Orchestra, the story is told using a mini camera and scaled down version of the characters live on the stage, which is then projected onto a big screen.

Breakfast or Afternoon Tea with Santa and his Elves at Hamleys.

on the South Bank.

Panto! From Sleeping Beauty to Peter Pan, get ready to hiss, cheer and shout 'he's behind you!' at these traditional pantomimes being shown all over London.

Christmas Lights - Regents Street, Oxford Street, Bond Street and Marylebone.

Christmas Festivities at Trafalgar Square - The Trafalgar Square Christmas tree lighting up ceremony takes place on Thursday 2nd December 2010. The tree will remain at Trafalgar Square until Wednesday 5th January 2011. Carol singing takes place daily from 5pm - 9pm, Tuesday 7th December - Wednesday 22nd December 2010. The lighting ceremony and carol services are free to attend.

Christmas at Geffrye Museum - The Christmas festival at the Geffrye Museum gives kids and adults the chance to see how festivities took place in the past. Going back as far as 1600, the museum shows what decorations were used, invites children to take part in special festive workshops, and ends the festival with a delightful Twelfth Night party.
